In Denmark Reflexology has been proven to help fertility. Reflexology helps promote conception. It can improve ovarian function to produce better quality of eggs, regulate hormones, increase blood flow, thicken the lining of the uterus and relax the patient."

The Pituitary gland/Hipofísis

The pituitary gland is sometimes called the "master gland" because it exerts great influence in the other organs of the body. Its function is complex and important for the general well-being. The pituitary gland is divided in two parts, the frontal body and the posterior one.

The previous pituitaria produces diverse hormones:
 Prolactine - the prolactose (or PRL by its abbreviations in English) stimulates the milky secretion in the woman after childbirth and can affect the hormonal levels of the ovaries in women and the testicles in the men.
