Method of Facial Reflexology for newborn, premature babies & mothers.

A course for you, If you like to work with newborn and children; a course for professionals of Reflexology, Midwives, or nurses etc.

The educational course program is accredited by the Regional Health Ministry of Catalonia, Spain.

Facial Reflexology is a reflex therapy method created in 1988 by Lone Sorensen.

Cyber therapy is a additional method of the Facial Reflexology method and a excellent tool to face situations by helping and relieving many upsets that a baby can suffer from the beginning as suctioning, correct feeding, sleep regulation, nasal decongestion, automatic movements, colic's, immune system, ear problems, premature babies special needs, eating problems, etcetera.

Time after labour is always stressing, it is a whole new situation with a newborn at home. It is difficult to achieve a normal rhythm and planning.

Here is where the Cyber therapy gets its importance as a great tool.

This Cyber methodology comes from Vietnam and is more than 3000 years-old. It acts over more than 500 reflex points in the face skin with which our brain and body can be controlled, the effect will be self-healing and self-regulating of many of our physical and mental pathologies.

Each organ reflects the totality of the body. Each point reflects one or many areas of the body in an order, that far from being scattered it follows the natural location of the organs. These points are represented in therapeutic sketches of reflexion. Thus, the psychological, physiological and clinic signs of the body are manifested at least in one of these sketches.

With the stimulation of the reflex points, impulses are sent through the nervous system to the organs. Thus, the hormonal system, the blood flow and arterial pressure can be regulated, the muscular system relaxed or activated, etc.

The impulse achieved by the stimulation of the reflex points in the face skin is much more effective than the one achieved by the stimulation in the feet area as the nervous endings are closer to the brain, therefore when a nerve point in the face is stimulated the impulse goes directly to the brain and continues its way to the reflex area.

Cyber therapy is an unlimited technique that every person can apply with fast and effective results.

The advantages of the Cyber therapy:

It can be applied at home.

Everyone can be treated, no matter the age.

No need for medicaments.

No needle used.

It does not cause any pain.

The stimulation can be applied 2-4 times a day.

For many conditions, the pain is relieved almost immediately.

It has no contraindications.
