Introduction to Facial Reflexology Sorensensistem TM

Facial reflexology is a therapeutic intervention in which stimulation of zones and points of the face are utilized to alleviate health conditions in other parts of the body.

A unique treatment that combines:

Ancient therapies from different cultures • Oriental energy meridians • Acupuncture points • Vietnamese and Andean tribal body maps • Modern neuro-anatomy. • Initiate a healing process using the balancing properties of the above three disciplines and additional procedures including cranial lines and points • Muscle stimulation • Facial nerve points •
